Psychological Stress Associated with the COVID-19 Crisis

Q3 CONTACT: Dr. Maheen Adamson at 650-493-5000 ext 62179. To learn more about this Stanford University Study, please visit abslab.stanford.edu. DESCRIPTION: You are invited to participate in a research study on psychological stress during the COVID-19 crisis. Our purpose is to measure the level of stress during this time and characterize it according to location, gender, income and other factors. This information will be collected through an online confidential survey. You will be asked to answer confidential survey questions that measure your level of stress during this time including questions about homeschooling, dependent care, full-time remote work, and social-distancing. TIME INVOLVEMENT: Your participation will take approximately 8-10 mins. RISKS AND BENEFITS: The risks associated with this study are minimal as it is an confidential survey. However, some questions related to stress may cause anxiety. We cannot and do not guarantee or promise that you will receive any benefits from this study. PAYMENTS: You will receive no payment for your participation. PARTICIPANT'S RIGHTS: If you have read this form and have decided to participate in this project, please understand your participation is voluntary and you have the right to withdraw your consent or discontinue participation at any time without penalty or loss of benefits to which you are otherwise entitled. The alternative is not to participate. You have the right to refuse to answer particular questions. The results of this research study may be presented at scientific or professional meetings or published in scientific journals. Your individual privacy will be maintained in all published and written data resulting from the study.

Q56 Are you an individual currently residing in the European Union (EU) / European Economic Area (EEA)?

Q57 General Data Protection Regulation Rights For individuals in the EU/EEA: As described elsewhere in this Research Information Sheet, during the study, data pertaining to your participation in the study will be generated and recorded. In addition, we will collect from you only confidential data. We refer to all such data as “Your Study Data,” which will be specifically regulated in the EU/EEA under the General Data Protection Regulation (the “GDPR”). Your Study Data may be processed or used for the following purposes, which we refer to, collectively, as “Data Processing”: - to carry out the study; - to confirm the accuracy of the study; - to monitor that the study complies with applicable laws as well as best practices developed by the research community; - to make required reports to domestic and foreign regulatory agencies and government officials who have a duty to monitor and oversee studies like this one; and, - to comply with legal and regulatory requirements, including requirements that data from this study, without information that could directly identify you, be made available to other researchers not affiliated with the study sponsor or with the study team. It is possible, for example, that as part of efforts to make research data more widely available to researchers, regulatory authorities in some countries may require that Your Study Data, without information that could directly identify you, be made publicly available on the internet or in other ways. The following entities and organizations may engage in Data Processing of this study Data: o the study team, including Dr. Maheen M. Adamson and her team. o the study sponsor: Stanford School of Medicine o Stanford Institutional Review Board We may conduct the study in the United States or in other countries where the laws do not protect your privacy to the same extent as the laws in your country of residence. In addition, we may disclose confidential survey data for Data Processing to entities and individuals located in the United States or in other countries where the laws do not protect your privacy to the same extent as the laws in your country of residence. However, all reasonable steps will be taken to protect your privacy in accordance with the applicable data protection laws. We have entered into a data transfer agreement with Stanford Medical School which is based on standard contractual clauses approved by the European Commission and ensures an adequate protection for Your Study Data. You may obtain a copy of the standard EU contractual terms by contacting the Principal Investigator, Maheen Mausooof Adamson, PhD at (650) 493-5000 ext 62179. The GDPR gives you certain rights with regard to Your Study Data. You have the right to request access to, or rectification or erasure of, Your Study Data. You also have the right to object to or restrict our Data Processing of Your Study Data. Finally, you have a right to request that we move, copy or transfer Your Study Data to another organization. In order to make any such requests, please contact Principal Investigator, Maheen Mausooof Adamson, PhD at (650) 493-5000 ext 62179. There is no limit on the length of time we will keep Your Study Data for this research because it may be analyzed for many years. We will also retain your Study Data to comply with our legal and regulatory requirements. We will keep it as long as it is useful, unless you decide you no longer want to take part. You are allowing access to this information indefinitely as long as you do not withdraw your consent. You may withdraw your consent at any time. If you withdraw your consent, this will not affect the lawfulness or our collecting, use and sharing of Your Study Data up to the point in time that you withdraw your consent. Even if you withdraw your consent, we may still use Your Study Data that has been anonymized so that the data no longer identifies you. In addition, we may use and share Your Study Data that is anonymous as permitted by applicable law for purposes of: (a) public health (e.g., ensuring high standards quality and safety of health care and/or of medicinal products or medical devices), (b) scientific or historical research or statistical analysis as permitted by applicable European Union or European Union Member State laws and (c) archiving in the public interest.

Q58 CONTACT INFORMATION: Questions: If you have any questions, concerns or complaints about this research, its procedures, risks and benefits, contact the Protocol Director, Maheen Mausoo Adamson, PhD, (650) 493 -5000 ext 62179. This survey is conducted in collaboration with the Stanford Department of Neurosurgery and the Stanford Department of Psychiatry. IRB Protocol #55809.

Independent Contact: If you are not satisfied with how this study is being conducted, or if you have any concerns, complaints, or general questions about the research or your rights as a participant, please contact the Stanford Institutional Review Board (IRB) to speak to someone independent of the research team at (650)-723-2480, or toll free at 1-866-680-2906. You can also write to the Stanford IRB, Stanford University, 1705 El Camino Real, Palo Alto, CA 94306. Please print a copy of this page for your records.
