Dear Dan,

Since I submitted the subject and abstract of my talk for the Chicago meeting, the research in this area has continued. There is a fellow in Gastroenterology at Cook County Hospital, who is doing a lot of work on the project. I am wondering if it is too late to include his name among the authors, next to the last, i.e., just before the name of Dr. Torriente.

If this is possible I would appreciate it very much, if it is too late then we will have to make the best of it, since he came into the project after we had submitted the title and authors. Hope you are in the best of health. With kindest personal regards, I am,

Very truly yours,

Leonidas H. Berry, M.D.
