Dr. and Mrs. Jacques Caroli
#1 BIS, Rue Vaneau
Paris VII, FRANCE

Dear Dr. and Mrs. Caroli:

My wife and I find it difficult to adequately express our joy and delight for having seen you again in Paris and to have been the recipients of your hospitality. My wife, Emma, joins me in expressing our deep gratitude to you in making our trip to Paris an enjoyable and memorable one.

We hope that someday in the not-too-distant future you may come to America and to Chicago and that we may have the opportunity of expressing our sincere feeling of friendship in a more tangible way.

With kindest personal regards and best wishes, I am

Yours very truly,

Leonidas H. Berry, M.D.
