Dear Dan:

I appreciate your correspondence and your suggestion of a "Round Robin Letter of News" from our class group. In my busy program at a time when it should be far less busy, I have had flashes of memory about your suggestion. I put the letter down, and finally discovered it the other day and was alarmed that it had been a new years card, three and a half months ago. I thought of suggesting that the Round Robin Letter might contain a request for a reunion at the June convocation. However, I recall that this usually conflicts with the AMA meeting, except when the latter meets in Chicago, this may be another two or three years.

The second thought was to ask the Alumni Secretary Office to print abstracts from each classmate's letter as a special article in the Alumni Journal. In this way, the news letter, or portions of it would be available to all of those who would fail to see the letters of all participants. I will try to clear this point today by telephone, regarding publication possibility. If so, I will start the ball rolling by sending you the first letter with a list of addresses that may be available to me. We must be reaching the age of reminiscing, several weeks ago I received a letter from Harvey Teusink stating that he would be in town for a few days, and would like to have a short visit with me. So when he turned up to attend the Academy of General Practice, we got together at lunch and talked about old times. This was just two weeks ago, we mentioned you as well as many others.

I hope you and the family are fine, and that your young doctor son is growing an enthusiasm for medicine.

Sincerely yours,

Leonidas
