Dear Bill:

I received your letter of a few weeks ago. It happened that I did not make the Alumni meeting as planned. Recently, I saw your letter again and realized that there were some things which required answering.

Number one, let me congratulate you for being a member of the National Advisory Allied Health Professions Council. It was similar to the tour which I had for two years in 1966 and 1967. The National Advisory Council Regional Medical Program Against Heart Disease, Cancer, and Stroke. I found it very rewarding, but near the end it became somewhat tiresome.

Congratulations also are certainly in order for finishing the fourth edition of your book. Those technical matters have long since gone beyond me. Largely because I have concentrated or rather diversified my interests in so many other fields.

You and Miriam have certainly covered many areas of the world. I still desire to go to most of those that you've mentioned which I have not covered. My Em doesn't share all of the enthusiasm I have about this world travel. Hope to see you in the not-too-distant-future and until then, very best regards from Em and me.

Sincerely yours,

Leonidas H. Berry, M.D.
