Please use the following credit lines at all times when using any of these images.

1. Renaissance Science, Magic, and Medicine in Harry Potter's World
   letterhead with owl

2. Trading Cards from Renaissance Science, Magic, and Medicine in Harry Potter's World Exhibition
   Courtesy U. S. National Library of Medicine

3. Illustration of an alchemy workshop
   Courtesy U.S. National Library of Medicine

4. Illustration of dragon
   Konrad Gesner, Historiae Animalium, 1551
   Courtesy U. S. National Library of Medicine

5. Hortus Sanitatis, 1491
   Courtesy U.S. National Library of Medicine

6. Illustration of an apothecary lesson
   Hieronymus Brunschwig, Liber de Arte Distillandi de Compositis, 1512
   Courtesy U.S. National Library of Medicine

7. Illustration of merpeople
   The Workes of Ambrose Parey, translated out of Latine, 1634
   Courtesy U.S. National Library of Medicine