“... there were loyal women, as well as men, in those days who did not fear the shell or the shot, who cared for the sick and dying...”

Susie King Taylor, black nurse with the 33rd United States Colored Infantry, 1902